1. Special Issue Newsletter on WLC19 Feature is now available!

We have released a special issue of the newsletter featuring the 19th World Lake Conference (WLC19), which was held in Balatonfured, Hungary, from November 7 to 9, 2023. It is now available on the ILEC website: <https://www.ilec.or.jp/en/pubs/newsletter>

In this issue, we provide coverage of opening remarks, the contributions of scientific committee members and youth, and the International Colloquium, with photos.

Additionally, the newsletter includes highlights from the Balaton Declaration, capturing the perspectives and opinions of the participants at WLC19.

2. JICA Training Program in FY2023: Participants from 11 Countries Visit Japan

ILEC, commissioned by the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA), conducts an annual training course entitled “Integrated Lake, River and Coastal Basin Management for Sustainable Use and Preservation of Water Resources from January 10 (Wed.) to February 14 (Wed.), 2024. The participants have been preparing for their training in Japan during the 3-week online training (Stage 1) held in November 2023.

During this 5-week on-site training at the ILEC facility in Kusatsu, 11 central and local government officials from developing countries engaged in river, lake, and coastal basin management will participate in various activities. The program includes lectures by esteemed educators from universities and companies in Kusatsu and other prefectures, as well as visits to relevant facilities.
